

Dick Lo

Director, Equity Derivatives Trading - Deutsche Bank, Hong Kong

- 1999-2000 | Commenced Bachelor of Commerce/Bachelor of Finance at Bond University.
Appointed treasurer of the Bond University Student Council, academic affairs director of the Business Students' Association and president of the Bond University Rotaract Club.
- 2001 | Secured internship with JB Were and Sons (now Goldman Sachs JBWere) through Bond's placement program.
Graduated with a double degree after two years. Awarded the Stephen Johnson Memorial Medal for Best Graduating Student from the School of Business.
- 2002 | Recruited by Deutsche Bank in Sydney in the Global Equity Derivatives division; due to Bond's fast-tracked course, was the youngest person on the trading floor for two years.
Awarded first place in the Deutsche Bank Global Equities Class of 2002 Graduate Training Program.
- 2005-2010 | Transferred to the Hong Kong branch of Deutsche Bank and is now working as a derivatives trader.

BCom
Alumnus